Comfort

Our Weathergear is designed for your comfort and protection by members of the Atlantis group who are intensely involved in ocean sailing. We believe that Atlantis Weathergear is the most comfortable weathergear available anywhere. All Atlantis Weathergear is designed and constructed to be totally waterproof to keep you dry. On the inside, our jackets employ the Atlantis Two-Layer Comfort System which keeps you feeling dry and comfortable even in the most extreme conditions. Here's how it works.

Our jackets employ a lightweight, breathable nylon lining to form a vapor-permeable inner layer. The outside layer is one of our waterproof nylon fabrics with our special Atlantis Neoprene Coating. Any internal moisture will be drawn to the outer layer away from your body where it will dissipate in the airspace between the two layers of fabric. You never come in contact with the coating or condensation and you remain comfortable and totally dry even under the most humid conditions.

Fabric

Atlantis Weathergear requires the use of fabric that will surpass the most critical testing of the oceans. It has to be completely waterproof so that it will not "breathe" water in. It has to retain this total waterproofness over years of hard use, after fathoms of line have run across its surface, and after prolonged exposure to both sun and salt. The fabric also must be lightweight, inherently strong, and highly resistant to oils, grease, and mildew.

~~To meet these requirements, we offer two specially treated nylon fabrics. For the ultimate in abrasion resistance, we offer a rugged 3 oz. per sq. yd. nylon twill, as used in our Ultimate Weathersuit. For use in our superlight products, like our Mariner Weathersuit, we use a durable 2 oz. per sq. yd. nylon taffeta.~~ Both fabrics have been subjected to demanding use and extensive testing to ensure their performance and flexible, lightweight comfort.

To make certain that our fabric retains its complete waterproofness over many seasons of active use, we use our special Atlantis Neoprene Coating—a coating that is at least three times as expensive as the polyurethane and polyvinylchloride (PVC) coatings commonly used. We use a neoprene coating because it outperforms polyurethane and PVC by far in abrasion resistance and durability.

Workmanship and Quality

Like other equipment designed for use on the oceans, Weathergear must be constructed from quality materials and with conscientious workmanship. We have designed Atlantis Weathergear to be used hard and have tested them under extreme conditions. You may be assured of total protection not just when our suit is new but through many seasons of active use.

Our Weathergear is made in our factory in Somerville, Massachusetts to our rigid specifications by people who take pride in making a quality product.

Are You Experienced?

We are currently collecting accounts of severe weather conditions and heavy weather sailing tactics for compilation and possible publication in an anthology as an effort to share this knowledge among serious sailors. A continued exploration of this area will be in the common interest of all who venture offshore. We would welcome the contribution of your experiences.

Sailboat Shows
